

COFFIN BAY JETTY

The refurbishment of the Coffin Bay Jetty, located on the Eyre Peninsula - South Australia, was an important marine based construction project in CATCON's portfolio.

The project included the extension and refurbishment of an existing, fully operational timber jetty, including; piling, installation of crossheads, girders, planking and docking.

CATCON used a barge to operate machinery and to provide access to the underside of the jetty. The piles were installed from the barge using a vibrating hammer attachment.

QUICK FACTS

- >> Located on the Eyre Peninsula, South Australia
- >> Barge used to allow access to the jetty
- >> Jetty was operational during construction
- >> Vibrating hammer attachment used to install piles

